

20260413 On It is Unreasonable to Believe the Puffery of a Mason

Once again, do not take my word for it!

It has been judicially determined by people that are far more intelligent and successful than me that it is objectively unreasonable to believe the puffery of a Mason.

◆ AI Overview

Kolodziej v. Mason, 774 F.3d 736 (2014), is a notable contract law case often associated with the concept of mere puffery—vague, hyperbolic, or subjective statements that no reasonable person would consider an enforceable offer or a material misrepresentation.

In this case, the Tenth Circuit affirmed that statements made by an attorney (Mason) during a television interview, which were highly exaggerated, did not constitute a binding contract because they were essentially "puffery" or rhetorical bluster, not a serious unilateral offer.  H2O Open Casebook

Key takeaways regarding the case and the legal standard of puffery:

- Context Matters: The court emphasized that a "reasonable person" would not interpret the attorney's hyperbolic statements during a news segment as a literal, legally binding offer to pay a million dollars.
- Objective v. Subjective: Puffery is usually non-actionable because it is subjective and cannot be proven true or false, unlike false advertising, which involves specific, falsifiable claims.
- Distinction from Offers: The ruling reinforces that promotional or hyperbolic language in media appearances generally does not create a contract, as it fails to demonstrate a clear intent to be bound.  H2O Open Casebook +3

The case is frequently cited to demonstrate that exaggerated marketing, "boasting," or "blustering" ("World's best coffee") is not actionable.  The National Law Review +1

Now, if I once was too 'unreasonable' to have believed the literal words and boasting of a Mason, let me be the first to have learned my lesson AND NOW SHARE THIS WISDOM WITH YOU ALL: IT IS LEGALLY UNREASONABLE TO BELIEVE THE PUFFERY OF A MASON.

So, for the 74 Million people that believed the puffery of @FakeDonaldChump

4. 74.2 million, Donald Trump (2020)

The presidential election of 2020 was one for the history books as the country was in the middle of the COVID pandemic and its related economic recession.

Not only did that election generate the highest voter turnout in modern history, but both major party candidates significantly beat the record for the number of votes received.

Allow me to bring to you the truth: DONALD TRUMP IS A PUFFING MASON THAT IS FULL OF HOT AIR (HIs team is literally blowing off a train horn steam whistle outside of my home right this very second!)

By JUDICIALLY DETERMINED, AND PUBLISHED LEGAL OPINION, it is in fact unreasonable to believe anything that these 'puffy-shirt' wearing people have to say to us all.

ou-R dick, He a G - Sethian Gnostic!

Someone please pass this message along to Pete(r) He-G-Seth as he spouts his fake Christy-IN-IN ; ) values to the modern American crucifier . . err. . PUNISHER!

Pete Hegseth's holy war: the militant Christian theology animating the US attack on Iran

APOCALYPSE OF ADAM

(First to Fourth Century A.D.)

A NEW TRANSLATION AND INTRODUCTION

BY G. MACRAE

The Apocalypse of Adam is a gnostic secret revelation or "apocalypse" communicated by Adam to his son Seth and destined to be preserved for Seth's posterity, the race of the gnostics. Because it is narrated by Adam immediately before his death, it also bears some of the literary characteristics of the genre testament. Adam first narrates the story of the Fall in a peculiarly gnostic version without much direct dependence on the Genesis garden story. In his fallen state of subservience to the creator God, without knowledge of the God of truth above, he receives a revelation of the future from three mysterious strangers, and it is this revelation that forms the substance of the remaining narrative. Adam then foretells the story of the Flood, of the resettlement of the world, and of a cosmic conflagration that is perhaps based on the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. These catastrophic events are interpreted as efforts on the part of the creator God to destroy the race of Seth, of which he is envious, but heavenly beings save them in each case. In a third episode a saving figure, called the "Illuminator of knowledge," comes and is persecuted by the powers of the world, who in their wrath are perplexed about his origin and their own ignorance. There follows a long poetic passage in which erroneous myths about his origin on the part of thirteen "kingdoms" are narrated in very stylized form. In contrast with these, the "kingless race" (i.e. the Sethian gnostics) know his true origin from above and are enlightened by him. The peoples of the earth then acknowledge their error and the supremacy of the gnostics, and a voice confirms both. In the formal conclusion of the work baptism is equated with gnosis, or knowledge.

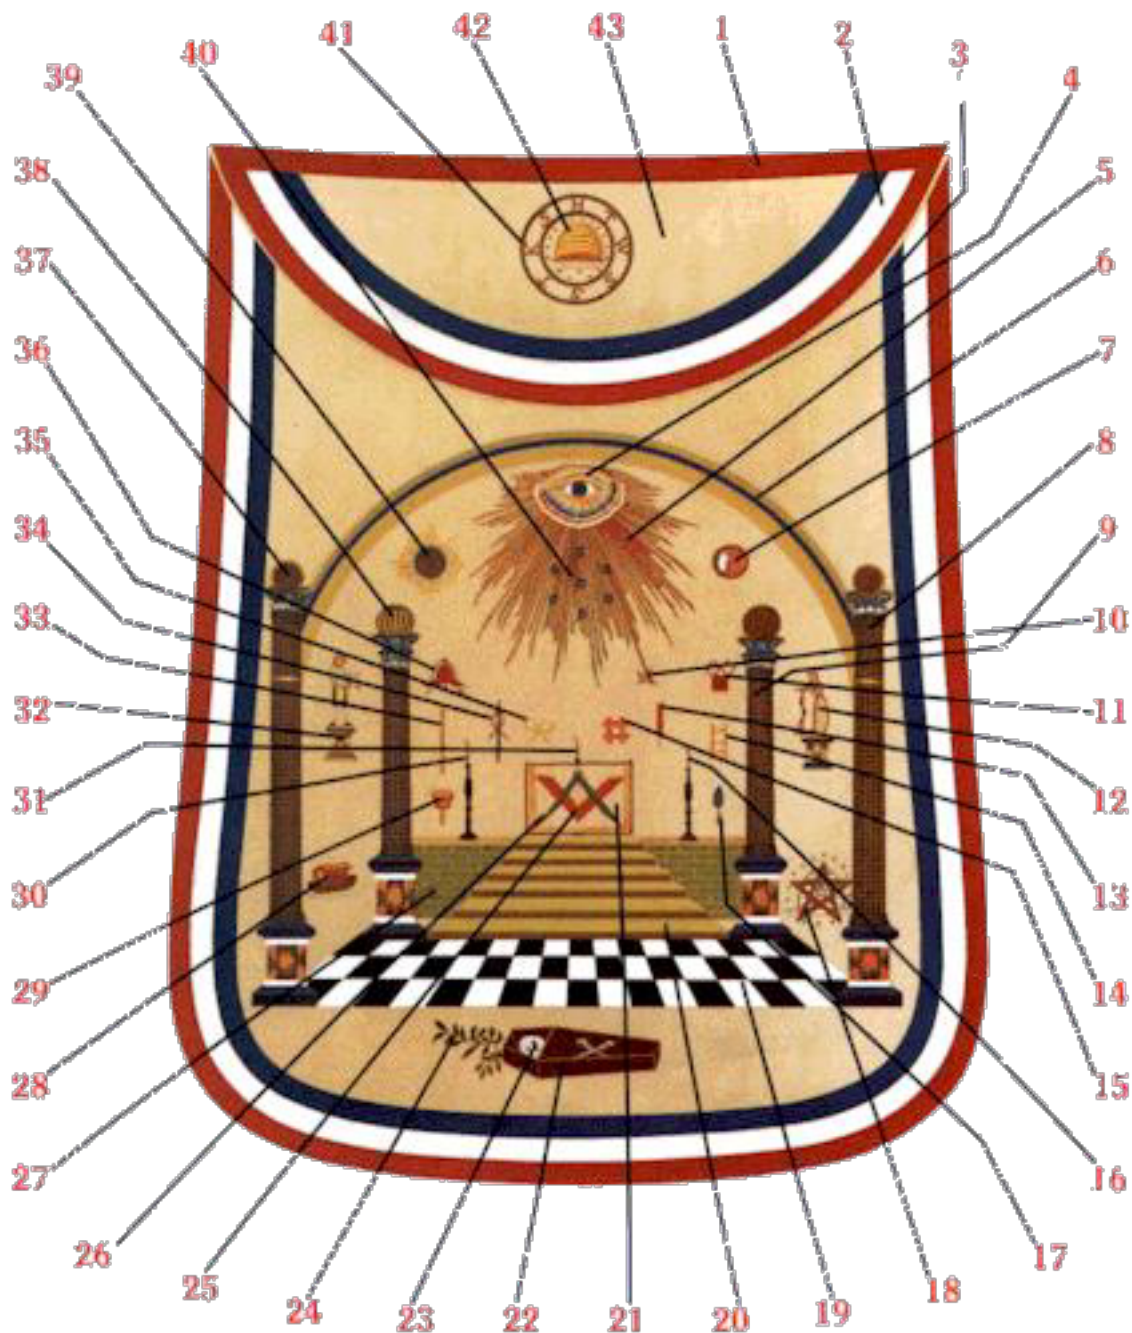

So, in conclusion, if you cannot believe that I am the return of Jesus himself to complete the final Revelation of the Christian apocalypse, raising us all in an enlightened rapture to heaven, then at least believe that I am the real Sam's-Son that brought down the pillars of the entire fake, Mason-IC, house of injustice.

28Then Samson prayed to the Lord, "Sovereign Lord, remember me. Please, God, strengthen me just once more, and let me with one blow get revenge on the Philistines for my two eyes."

29Then Samson reached toward the two central pillars on which the temple stood. Bracing himself against them, his right hand on the one and his left hand on the other, 30Samson said, "Let me die with the Philistines!" Then he pushed with all his might, and down came the temple on the rulers and all the people in it. Thus he killed many more when he died than while he lived.

Bro. George Washington's Apron

(one of two that he owned)

37. (See No.8)

38. (See No.9)

39. SUN, one of the Lesser light as a source of light it reminds the Mason of that intellectual light of which he is in constant search.

40. SEVEN SIX-POINTED STARS. The number SEVEN represents the Seven Liberal Arts and Sciences: Grammar, Rhetoric, Logic, Arithmetic, Geometry, Music and Astronomy. The SIX-POINTED STAR symbolizes Divine Providence, the star of David or Shield of David. It comprises two interlaced triangles, which have a number of Masonic interpretations.

41. LETTERS used symbolically in the Mark Master Mason's degree, Chapter of Royal Arch Mason.

42. BEEHIVE is the emblem of industry. It teaches us that as we came into this world rational and intelligent beings, so we should ever be industrious ones.

43. APRON. The Masonic Apron, which derives from the working apron of the stonemason, is in itself a symbol. It is an emblem of innocence, and the badge of a Freemason.

Information provided by the Masonic Temple, Library & Museum of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Pennsylvania.

Let's all Unite into One, Same Person, to Denounce & Imprison the Organized Criminals of Un-Accepted and No-Longer-Free-Masonry!